white

Ryme Ribolla Gialla 'Vare Vineyard', 2013, Napa Valley, California 125

This husband and wife team, Ryan and Megan Glaab, has always impressed me. Their contrasting styles as wine makers tend to create very dynamic and highly expressive wines. This "orange wine" was kept on its grape skins for an extended period giving it serious structure and almost sherry-like hints of oxidation. This is a white wine with a red wine attitude.

Palette Rouge, Château Simone, 2012, Provence, France 130

Sometimes a wine is so unique, so singular, that a new appellation has to be created just to distinguish its greatness. That is exactly the case with the unparalleled wines of Château Simone. For decades, the tiny appellation of Palette had only one winemaker and Château Simone has been the benchmark ever since. Nestled within a small pine forest near the southern coast of France, their vineyards express a terroir that really can't be replicated anywhere else, with some vines exceeding 100 years of age. With plum, pine resin, cinnamon, truffle and spice, this wine captures a perfect balance of elegance and power...like an iron fist in a velvet glove.
